Mr. G. D. Patton arrived in the city yesterday from Austin, and will take charge of the Union Sewing Machine agency in this place for Mr. G. L. Gooch. A good man to represent a good machine.

A New York Democratic club has sent Mr. Thurman an ancient bandana, which was imported by a merchant who kept store in Salem, Mass., in the last century, and is said to be 110 years old. In acknowledging this gift, Mr. Thurman writes: "I shall carry this handkerchief as my particular bandana, and hope to transmit it to those who follow after me." A handkerchief as durable as this will doubtless resist the effects of the reverberating detonations to which the Old Roman's bandanas are expressed, and there is reason to believe that this hope will be realized.

Young Man (to numismatist)—"What's a silver half-dollar worth dated 1833?" Numismatist—"Nothing; the market is flooded with them." Young Man (discouraged)—"I thought they were valuable. Can't you give me something for it?" Numismatist—"I wouldn't mind giving you a quarter." Young Man—"Take it; that's better than nothing.—Life.

My Looking Glass.

Having fully made up my mind and by practical test, demonstrated the feasibility of the Cash System in the Grocery Business, I shall continue on the same line only and shall make great efforts to meet the most rapid competition. Hewing straight to the line, letting the chips fall where they may. And I take this method of soliciting the patronage of the people of Waco, who pay for these groceries, assuring all that my goods shall be the best, my prices the lowest, my service unexcelled, my efforts to please unbounded. A trial is anxiously desired from all who so I this looking-glass, by

J. M. COOPER,
Waco Supply Store.

Rare old whiskies, rich with age, and the choicest wines are served over the counter at the White Elephant.

If you would keep cool take your drinks at the White Elephant.

Nicely furnished and well ventilated rooms at the Brunswick Hotel, on Franklin street.

The choicest drinks, ice cold, are to be found at the White Elephant.

I have opened a restaurant in connection with my saloon and am prepared to furnish a good meal at all hours at Bismark's.

Franklin street is showing commendable signs of progress, and the Brunswick Hotel is leading the procession and will soon be one of the leading hotels of the city, as Mrs. Ed White has taken charge, she being a lady of vast experience in the hotel business.

Show case wanted at Bismark's.

A first-class French cook attends to the restaurant at the Bismark.

A nice, cool dining room, and all apartments kept in order at the Brunswick.

For Sale—A milkshaker at Bismark's.
